

Selecta: Successful link building for SEO project

Selecta is Europe's leading vending machine manufacturer that offers coffee and convenience food solutions at work and in public spaces. With over 9,000 employees and 250,000 customers in 16 countries, Selecta serves an average of more than 10 million consumers a day through its 460,000 sales outlets across Europe. In December 2019, based on a recommendation, Selecta commissioned Chris Cross Relations as a PR agency with local market expertise and Dok30 in the Netherlands to support a campaign locally on project-basis with the goal of increasing the Selecta website presence.

This should be done through off-site optimization using backlinks. The focus was on the media with an online presence, since the aim of the campaign was to generate online links with publications. In accordance with the GDPR applicable in Germany, the contacts identified were initially contacted by phone. Before it was sent out, the study commissioned in the UK had to be localized by Chris Cross Relations and adapted to Germany. This was followed by a 1:1 email to the target media contacts as well as subsequent follow-up on the phone.
